

Ethics of Artificial Nutrition & Hydration

You are invited to attend an accredited CE presentation!

This accredited continuing education course will be offered at no charge:

This course is designed to educate nurses, case managers, social workers regarding the medical ethics, legal precedent and case law regarding withdrawal of artificial nutrition and hydration at the end of life.

The course is followed by an evaluation and post-test, and participants passing the post-test (>80%) will earn one (1) continuing education credit hour.

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

1. Define medical ethics/bioethics
2. Discuss legal precedent and case law regarding withdrawing or withholding artificial nutrition and hydration (ANH)
3. Review the physiology of starvation and dehydration at end of life
4. Cite an example of how the caregiver can demonstrate sensitivity to the patient's cultural and religious beliefs
5. Identify an ethical framework to guide decision making related to ANH at end of life

Presenter: This course was designed by Hi-R-Ed Online University. Hi-R-Ed has been approved as a provider of continuing education credit for social workers, nurses and dietitians and has received course approval for case managers.
